Wachter, a U.S. based technology integration company, has joined the Hypervsn Partner Community as its U.S. reseller, according to a company press release.

Wachter provides tech solutions for digital transformation, including design, staging and support services to their clients. Hypervsn builds integrated 3D holographic display platforms.

"We are beyond pleased to welcome Wachter into the Hypervsn Reseller Partnership," Aaron Taylor, Hypervsn USA regional director, said in the release. "This is a poignant partnering up, as both Hypervsn and Wachter are two companies focused on tech innovation and digital transformation. We can't wait to see what
